Objective

To have an opportunity to grow with a company that will let me succeed through the success that I help create through my work ethic and experience.

Ability Summary

I have strong work ethics and an ability to lead a team. I have knowledge in C, C Sharp, C++, Visual Basic, Java, HTML, Android Operating System, Microsoft Windows, Linux, and Networking. I went to Full Sail University to study programming and I have also taught myself to be able to program and understand many different languages and the way things work. I have a solid understanding of problems and coming up with solutions that benefit everyone efficiently. Everything that I have learned or taught myself I have used to create programs and systems to help whatever business I was with at the time of employment and through my knowledge have created a better method for that business to thrive through a technological stand point. I am a very fast learner and enjoy being able to be given challenges and succeeding in everything I do. My ability to pick up on things and take charge with new and old items learned is extremely well.
